RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL) (POL007)

Recognition for Prior Learning (RPL) is an assessment process for the purpose of recognising skills and competencies an individual may have already attained and to provide them with a formal qualification (or statement of attainment) from a nationally recognised training package or curriculum. Individuals wishing to apply for RPL may already have skills and knowledge through:

- formal or informal training and education
- work experience
- general life experience

RPL assesses a person's skills and competencies to determine and ensure these are current.

RPL is not required when a person already has the same unit of competency issued by another Registered Training Organisation (RTO). In this case, the concept of National Recognition will apply and Credit Transfer will be provided to a successful applicant – see MBA Group Training Poo6 - National Recognition and Credit Transfer Policy.

MBAGT will undertake a recognition of prior learning process for students applying for RPL, prior to commencement of training and adjust the training and assessment program for the learners who are granted RPL.

An exemption from study will be granted for units of competency or subjects in your course for which you have received recognition through the process of RPL. Please speak with your trainer if you wish to apply for recognition. The RPL Policy (POL007) can be found on our website – www.mba.org.au.

TRANSITION AND TEACH-OUT POLICY (POL017)

MBAGT will transition students to new Training Package Qualifications within twelve months of their release and publication on the training.gov.au (TGA) website.

All new students will be enrolled into the new qualification, as soon as this is registered on MBAGT's scope of registration.

Existing learners scheduled to complete the qualification within the 12 month transition period, will continue their program in the superseded qualification and will be assisted to complete this within the specified timeframe.

Students unable to complete their course within the specified period of 12 months will be transitioned to the new qualification as soon as this is registered on MBAGT's Scope of registration.

For a copy of the Transition and Teach-Out Policy please refer to POL017 on our website.

UNIQUE STUDENT IDENTIFIER (USI)

The USI is a mandatory reference number that is made up of numbers and letters and is unique for each individual student. Accordance to the Student Identifier Act 2014, it is a legal requirement that all students undertaking nationally recognised training as of 1 January 2015 obtain a USI through the USI Registrar's website and provide this to the training organization that deliver the course in which they are enrolled. The USI is reported to the Registrar by the training organization, at the completion of a student's study.

The benefit of having a USI is that it allows for all training undertaken by a student in their lifetime to be recorded in one register so that they can have easy access to their training records and results throughout their life.

It doesn't cost anything to obtain a USI, and once you have it, it will stay with you for life.

The advantage for you is that you can electronically access your results for any training you've completed (after 1 January 2015) anywhere, anytime.

All students enrolled in any course/qualification must provide MBAGT with a USI. Information on the USI is provided to you at induction and other information can be found at www.mba.org.au or www.usi.gov.au.

MBAGT has a USI station to assist you to obtain a USI.

MBAGT USI privacy policy (POL009) and USI policy (POL008) can be found on our website, mba.org.au.

MBAGT can apply for a USI on your behalf if you provide us with a signed USI privacy notice and a copy of valid identification. All identification given to MBAGT will be securely destroyed on successful USI verification.

MBAGT is unable to issue a Certificate or Statement of Attainment until the student's USI is provided.

WORK HEALTH AND SAFETY (WHS)

MBAGT is committed to creating and maintaining a safe and healthy working environment for workers and others. Our goal is to ensure all reasonably practical steps are taken in managing health and safety with the aim of reducing workplace injuries and illnesses.

In your first induction, you will be given information about any protective clothing and equipment you need for training. You will also be given information about what to do in an emergency or if you are injured and need first aid. In the course of your studies, you will learn about occupational health and safety relevant to your training.

You are required by law to take reasonable care for the health and safety of yourself and others in the workplace, and at MBAGT Skills Centre. You must not interfere with or misuse anything provided for you in the interest of health and safety. You are obligated to follow safety instructions given to you by the trainer. You should report any safety issues or concerns to your trainer or administration staff as soon as possible.

THE USE OF ALCOHOL AND OTHER DRUGS IS NOT PERMITTED WHILST ON THE PREMISES OR WHILE UNDERTAKING MBAGT ACTIVITIES.

Such use may compromise safety and place both students and staff at risk of harm. Staff members have a duty of care to students and therefore have the right and responsibility to discuss possible alcohol and/or other drug concerns with them. Staff members also have the right to ask a student to leave their class and the training centre if they are affected by alcohol and/or other drugs. They may contact a student's employer to discuss any concerns.

Following amendments to the National Building Code 2013, Principal Contractors must manage alcohol and other drugs. To achieve this all workers, including students on construction sites, will be subject to alcohol and other drugs testing in accordance with the Principal Contractors' policies.

HARASSMENT FREE FACILITY

What is Harassment?

Harassment is the act of systematic and/or continued unwanted and annoying actions of one party or a group towards another, which may include threats or demands. The purpose and reasons may vary and could include racial prejudice, personal malice, an attempt to force someone to do something they don't want to do or to grant favors (sexual or non-sexual), apply pressure or simply to make someone fearful or anxious.

Some examples of harassment

Harassment can take many forms. Depending on whether the behaviour is welcome or not, any of the following could amount to a type of harassment:

Material that is racist, sexist, ageist, sexually explicit, anti-gay, anti-transgender that is displayed publicly, circulated or put in someone's workplace or belonging, on a computer (including email), or fax machine, or on the internet.

Verbal abuse or comments that put down or stereotype people generally, or an individual particularly, because of their sex, pregnancy, race, homosexuality, disability, transgender (transsexual), age or marital status.

Jokes based on gender, race, marital status, homosexuality, disability, age or transgender (transsexual). There is a difference between harmless humour which may refer to gender, race and so on, and using a racist joke to have a "dig" at someone (and therefore to harass them). If this difference is not clear or someone is offended, the behaviour should stop immediately.

Offensive gestures

Ignoring, isolating or segregating a person or group

- Referring to a person who is transgender by their previous name or gender, or calling the person "it"
- Staring or leering in a sexual manner
- Sexual or physical contact, such as grabbing, kissing or touching
- Intrusive questions about sexual activity
- Unwelcome wolf whistling
- Repeated sexual invitations when the person has refused a similar invitation before.

Does there have to be more than one act for it to be considered harassment?

Harassment does not have to be a series of incidents nor even an ongoing pattern of behaviour. Just one act can be enough to amount to harassment.

Do you have to say "no" for it to be classed as harassment?

Someone does not have to say "no" before any particular type of behaviour or action can be considered harassment.

How can you tell if a particular action or behaviour is harassment or not?

It will always depend on the particular circumstances or situation.

There is no objective test of non-sexual harassment, only a subjective one of how the behaviour affected the person it was directed towards or a third party witness. If:

- They did not want it, and
- They felt humiliated, intimidated or offended, and
- The behaviour was either sexual, or targeted them because of their or a relative's or colleague's sex, pregnancy, race, age, homosexuality (actual or presumed), disability (actual or presumed) or transgender (actual or presumed)
- In the circumstances, a reasonable person should have expected that the behaviour would humiliate, intimidate or offend, then the behaviour is probably unlawful harassment.

For sexual harassment, it may be unlawful if:

- The behaviour is in any way sexual, and
- The person claiming the harassment did not want it, and
- The person claiming the harassment felt humiliated, intimidated or offended.

There are two different legal definitions of harassment- one for non-sexual harassment and one for sexual harassment.

Non-sexual harassment is any form of behaviour that:

- The other person does not want and does not return, and
- Offends, humiliates or intimidates them, and
- Targets them because of their race, sex, pregnancy, marital status, transgender (actual or presumed), homosexuality (actual or presumed) or disability (actual or presumed).

Sexual harassment is any form of sexually related behaviour that:

- The other person does not want and does not return, and
- Offends, humiliates or intimidates them.

What should I do if I feel that I have experienced harassment?

If you feel that you are being harassed you may choose to let the other party know that their behaviour is unacceptable and that you want it to stop. Usually this is enough to ensure that the action or behaviour stops. However, you may also choose to discuss the situation and seek further advice. MBAGT has a discrimination, bullying and harassment policy which will ensure that your case will be handled with sensitivity and confidentiality and can be accessed by speaking with:

- Your trainer
- One of your field officers
- A member of the administration staff
- The General Manager of MBAGT
- Counsellors

It is also against the law for anyone to:

- Victimise anyone because they have complained about harassment, or
- Victimise anyone because they have supported someone who complained about harassment.

In both cases, this covers someone complaining internally within the Master Builders or someone who complains to the relevant law enforcement authority, anti-discrimination organisation or equal opportunity organisation.

What types of harassment are against the law?

In the ACT, it is against anti-discrimination law for individuals to be harassed because of their:

- Sex
- Pregnancy
- Race- including their colour, nationality, ethnic or ethno-religious background
- Marital status
- Disability- past, present or future; actual or presumed
- Homosexuality- actual or presumed
- Transgender (transsexual) - actual or presumed
- Age
- Carers responsibilities

It is also against the law for a person to be harassed because of their relationship to, or association with, a person of a particular sex, race, marital status, disability, homosexuality, transgender or age.

HOW OFTEN DO I ATTEND TRAINING?

Apprentices: Generally you will attend six, one-week training blocks over the course of the year. Your training with MBAGT will include both theory lessons in our classrooms and practical lessons in the outdoor workshop.

Your commitment to attend training is of the highest priority. Although this may conflict with your on-site work demands and other unforeseen commitments, attendance at training is a mandatory requirement of your training contract, any absence will require you to attend an alternative session of training to catch up on missed training. Furthermore, practical sessions missed may incur additional costs to cover the assessor's time. If, for any reason, you cannot attend training, you must notify MBAGT by calling 61755900 as soon as possible so that alternative arrangements can be made.

You will receive confirmation of the training dates for each year at the commencement of the relevant year, this may include catch up classes and repeating sessions, which will be discussed with you.

There will be weeks during which there is a Rostered Day Off (RDO). Training is still conducted on RDOs and you are required to attend.

Other students: The frequency of training for each course, as well as the dates and times will vary depending on the course you are undertaking. A course information sheet, will be sent to you by SMS or email upon your application to enroll into a MBAGT course.

For further information, please see MBAGT's website under the specific course – mba.org.au

WHAT DO I WEAR TO TRAINING?

Your Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) must be worn at all times if you wish to participate in practical training. This means a long sleeved shirt, work pants and steel cap safety boots must be worn, and you must have clear and tinted safety glasses, hearing protection and a wide-brimmed hat for practical training outdoors.

For non-apprenticeship training please read your course information documentation for further specific and additional information.

You will be excluded from practical lessons if you do not observe these requirements.

TRAINING HOURS – APPRENTICE TRAINING

Session 1: 8.00am - 10.00am

Session 2: 10.25am - 12.15pm

Session 3: 1.00pm - 4.00pm

TRAINING HOURS - STUDENTS

Training other than apprentice training please refer to the relevant course information documentation received on enrolment.

ASSESSMENTS

Assessments form an integral part of the training experience. Assessment processes will differ from course to course and students will be advised of the assessment tasks that must be submitted for each course, module or session during the introduction of the training.

Short course training will usually include the assessment tasks within the allocated course duration. For qualifications and some course training you may be required to complete assessments tasks in your own time outside the specified face to face training sessions.

It is suggested that students note these dates in their diaries and plan ahead to ensure assessments are completed and submitted by no later than the assessment submission date.

ASSESSMENT SUBMISSIONS

Assessments must be submitted to MBAGT clearly identifying the learner name, course and assessment task. (E.g. Certificate IV in Building and Construction (Building) - Module 1 Financial & Business Management)

Students are required to keep copies of their assessments in the instance that assessments may be misplaced or lost in the mail. Students will be provided with a signed receipt as proof of submission. The assessment must be handed in at the MBAGT reception and signed by a MBAGT staff member. MBAGT will keep a copy of this receipt.

Please note: photocopied work will not be accepted for assessing.

The submission of assessment tasks must comply with the following:

- Students have fairly and practicably attempted all assessment tasks.

- Assessments that have not been fully attempted and require you to provide additional information will be returned to students for completion and re-submission. This will be counted as two (2) submissions.
- Assessments must be submitted before or on the assessment due date.
- A completed cover sheet must always be attached to the front of the assessment submission. The cover sheet is important as it provides information to the facilitator on the unit of competency or cluster you are submitting. It also allows for easier processing for the Assessment Administrator – if cover sheets are not completed correctly, it will cause a delay in the processing and marking of your assessments.
- Write assessments in pen, not pencil.
- Assessments must not be stapled or bound.

WHERE TO SUBMIT ASSESSMENTS?

Option 1: Hand deliver your assessment to the MBAGT Reception at 1 Iron Knob Street, Fyshwick. Please ensure that you obtain a signed receipt for the assessment from an MBAGT staff member at reception.

Option 2: Mail to MBAGT at: MBAGT, P O Box 1201, Fyshwick 2609.

Option 3: Email to training@mba.org.au

All assessments received are logged into our Training databases.

EXTENSIONS TO ASSESSMENT DUE DATES

An extension to a due date for an assessment must be submitted to the Course administrator at least three days prior to the due date.

A request for an extension will only be considered or granted under special circumstances, which may include:

- Medical circumstances, for example where the students medical condition has changed to such an extent that he or she is unable to provide the assessment task within the set timeframe
- Family circumstances, for example death or severe medical problems within a family which prohibited the student from completing their assessment tasks within the specified timeframe.

COURSE END DATE

All courses undertaken by students will have a nominal end date. You will be advised of the course end date at the time you sign your Training Plan and prior to your enrolment.

In this timeframe you are expected to attend training sessions and submit your assessments within the time periods specified in your training plan. This includes your assessment period and any resubmissions of your work.

Students may request an extension in writing if they feel they will not be able to meet their course timelines.

If you miss any important sessions of the training, you will be expected to discuss the options for making up these sessions with the trainer or facilitator before submitting your assessments for marking.

Important: A Statement of Attainment will be issued for those units of competency you have been deemed competent in once the course has reached the completion or end date.

Assessments submitted after the course has reached completion date will not be accepted and will result in being marked as Not Yet Competent. If you then wish to complete this course in the future after the closure date, you may be expected to re-enroll and pay for the cluster/s not yet completed, and/or pursue RPL (which will also incur charges).

WITHDRAWING FROM YOUR COURSE

APPRENTICES:

If you are having difficulty with your training, talk to your trainer or a member of the administration staff to discuss options available to you.

If you are unable to continue with your training, talk to your trainer. You will receive a Statement of Attainment for any units of competency which you have completed and been determined competent in. You should notify your trainer and/or the administration staff of your intention to withdraw.

If you are no longer employed you must notify MBAGT immediately. Your Training Contract requires you to be in an employment contract.

CANCELLATION OF TRAINING FOR OTHER STUDENTS

All fees and charges including the MBAGT cancellation policy is located on the MBAGT website. www.mba.org.au.

SITE VISITS

Apprentices undertaking training at MBAGT will be visited by our field officers/trainers during their apprenticeship and this will include a discussion with your employer or host employer.

Topics of discussion will include training, student reports, skills gained, work health and safety, training and other concerns related to training.

APPRENTICE SUPERVISION

An apprentice or trainee must be supervised by a suitable qualified person, who is a permanent worker of the Host Employer and who works predominantly the same hours as the apprentice or trainee.

For MBA Group Training apprentices and trainees, a suitable qualified supervisor can be the Host Employer or their worker, who has an equivalent or higher level qualification in the same trade qualification to the one being undertaken by the apprentice (or trainee).

In determining the level and pattern of supervision for an apprentice's or trainee's work, several aspects should be taken into account. There is knowledge attained, and the previous experience and training the apprentice or trainee has had relative to each particular task, skill or work function.

The pattern of supervision for apprentices and trainees will typically be direct, general or broad.

SURVEYS

MBAGT undertake a survey program which provides student, employer, host employer and other related stakeholder feedback to collect information regarding our performance as an RTO and GTO. The surveys form an integral part of our continuous improvement process.

We are also required to gather information regarding our training and assessment for National reporting purposes. The Learner Engagement & Employer Satisfaction surveys will be provided to students to gather feedback on course content and delivery, their facilitators, the course materials and the assessment process.

This information is collated for the basis of systematically evaluating our services and uses the outcomes of the evaluations to continually improve our training and assessment strategies and practices

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is the act of copying and using another person's expressions or idea, without acknowledging them.

Intentional plagiarism involves the deliberate act of presenting someone else's work/ideas as if you wrote it yourself. Current technology makes such responses easy (e.g. with cut and pasting) but also makes it easy to detect.

Unintentional plagiarism arises due to student confusion of how and where to reference, poor information literacy skills and confusion over the difference between copyright and common knowledge information.

Students are required to

- Be aware of their responsibilities in regard to plagiarism
- Reference all assignments for submission appropriately
- Seek advice and support from MBAGT trainers and staff

CHEATING

Cheating occurs when an individual copies someone else's work, for example sharing or copying an assessment, quiz, test or assignment or submitting an assessment, test, quiz or assignment completed by another student or individual.

You are required to complete and submit your own original work. Only original assessment work will be accepted, no photocopied work is to be submitted.

Cheating however is usually intentional and unacceptable. The consequence of cheating may include: repeating the entire unit, resubmitting the assignment or alternative assignment, suspension from the course and/or cancellation of course enrolment.

COMPLAINTS

Please refer to Complaints Policy on page 6.

COURSE COMPLETION

Upon successful completion of your apprenticeship you will be issued with a Certificate of Completion. This will state the qualification which you have achieved as well as a transcript of the competencies you have completed. You should always make sure you keep copies of your transcripts as they show the names of all the units of competencies which you have achieved. MBAGT apprentices on successful completion will also be completed in their employment with MBAGT.

Your certificate and transcript will be withheld if you have any fees owing.

THE MBAGT APPRENTICE AWARDS

Each year, MBAGT recognises the achievements of our students by holding the Apprentice Awards to celebrate these achievements. Trainers and Host Employers are asked to nominate outstanding students who demonstrate a commitment to hard work and dedication to the Construction Industry. Additionally, apprentices have the opportunity to nominate exceptional host employers to be recognised for their contribution to the industry and the opportunities they provide for training and development.

The Awards are open to all apprentices who train with MBAGT and to those apprentices who are employed by MBAGT but undertake their training with another RTO nominated by MBAGT. The recipients of the Outstanding Apprentice Awards will also be recognised at the Master Builders Excellence in Building Awards, which is the Master Builders night of nights.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURE

What to do in an emergency:

If you hear the Fire Alarm Evacuation Bell or the order to evacuate is given through the intercom system by the chief fire warden, you must:

- Listen for a roll call and respond clearly when your name is called. This will prevent another person putting themselves in danger to look for you.
- If you are not in class, follow the instructions of the area warden and proceed safely to the assembly area.
- Do not leave the assembly area or try to collect personal belongs from classrooms.
- If you become aware of any missing persons, please report this immediately to the nearest fire warden.
- You are required to stay in the assembly area until the order to reoccupy the building or otherwise is given by the chief fire warden.

- Remain calm
- If in class, follow your trainer's instructions, or the instructions of an area warden.
- When instructed to evacuate, stay with your group and trainer and move via the safest route to the assembly area, which is located behind the Master Builders Sign, near the car park entrance.

FIRST AID

First Aid officers are located throughout the building. If you require first aid, advise a member of staff and they will contact a first aid officer to assist you.

MENTAL HEALTH

Mental health disorders can affect people from all social backgrounds, any intelligence and education level, any age and any ethnic background. MBAGT has policies and guidelines in relation to mental health issues. Wherever possible, MBAGT aims to support students in the learning environment and can discuss referral options to support students that may be experiencing mental health issues.

Some helpful strategies to maintain your mental health:

- Talk to friends, relatives or professionals
- Eat a balanced diet and exercise regularly
- Get enough sleep
- Relax and have fun
- Join a sporting or interest group
- Seek help when needed
- Read a self-help book
- Visit your doctor and discuss your mental health
